

President's Message

It's been a pleasure to serve as your BAEC President over the past twelve months, and I'm hoping you will allow me to serve a second term in 2012. This year has been full of challenges for both the members and the association, and there's sure to be more in the coming year as we climb our way back to the recovery of the housing market and the Connecticut economy.

As president, I'm calling the annual meeting of the membership to order on Friday, December 2, at 6:00 p.m. The purpose of the meeting is three-fold: to vote upon and swear in our 2012 board of officers and directors, celebrate our 2011 award winners, and enjoy an evening of good food, drink and excellent camaraderie. We'll be gathering at The Spa at Norwich Inn for cocktails at 6:00 p.m. and the dinner and program at 7:00 p.m. Friends, families and co-workers are welcome to join us.

The BAEC nominating committee has developed a slate of officers and directors for your approval, and nominations may be made from the floor. Once a final slate has been accepted and voted upon, our Home Builders Association of Connecticut President, Liz Verna of Verna Development, will deliver the oath of office.

It's important for you to attend and cast your vote, as the board of directors represents you, the BAEC's shareholders. We appreciate and need your input on how we may make the association best serve your needs in today's economy.

Here's our proposed slate of officers and directors: We thank those of you who are willing to commit your time and attention towards the workings of this association.

Support our BAEC Killingly High School Student Chapter!

Members of our BAEC Student Chapter at Killingly High School are setting out to prove they are serious about building their futures in the homebuilding business. Once again they'll be competing with other high schools and colleges across the nation at the Student Chapter Competition at the IBS Show in February.

They are looking for builder members to participate in an informal, preliminary, construction presentation at 6:00 pm on Thursday, December 1st at Killingly High. They need input from building industry professionals on their competition materials. Please RSVP to Bonnie Beland, at bbeland@killinglyschools.org if you are able to participate.

The students are doing all sorts of fundraisers to pay for their IBS journey and stay. Join Amity Construction, Exterior Solutions, Hampton Remodeling, and the Mystic River Building and by placing your logo on their team uniforms for $100.

A special thank you to the students and instructor Bonnie Beland for helping us ready the House of the Year for visitors to our open house on November 5. We were scrambling and your help was sincerely appreciated!!

Take Advantage of BAEC Marketing Opportunities

THE 2012 BAEC MEMBERSHIP DIRECTORY IS UNDER CONSTRUCTION

The BAEC 2012 Membership Directory is now under construction. Make sure your company information is up to date and consider placing an ad in the directory. It'll be around all year long on many member dashboards, seats and desktops.

The BAEC Membership Directory reaches all of our members each year and helps to facilitate members doing business with members! Reserve your advertising space no later than 12 / 2 / 11! Contact the office at 860.859.3518.

Our home show is the ultimate social networking experience. Don't miss this amazing opportunity to market your products and services to a wide audience at the Mohegan Sun Casino, January 7 and 8, 2012.

Contact Jay Appleman of Red Stone Promotions at 1-800-294-7469 or log onto www.baechomeshow.com for exhibitor information.

Teach a seminar to consumers during the show weekend! Contact the BAEC office to select a time. Hurry! It's first-come first-served on time slots.

BAEC WEBSITE

Our www.baec.net website averages about 4,000 unique visits each month. Sponsor our home page or place your banner on a particular consumer or member page that links to your website. We also invite our members to submit informative articles as a resource for consumers. Call the BAEC office for sponsorship rates.

Education and Training

It's School Vacation!

The BAEC program planning committee, led by Jim Williams of T.F. Buxton, is busily working to put together a 2012 programming schedule that builds on the very popular meeting on building codes, sponsored by Ring's End and Marvin Windows, that we held on October 26.

If you have training needs and suggestions, share them with Jim at jim_tfbuxton@hotmail.com, or contact the BAEC office! We are committed to helping our members by bringing you timely and accurate information at little to no cost. If you are passionate about your profession and your education, consider joining Jim's committee to assist in the planning process.

The NAHB webinar series is very comprehensive. If you cannot visit the site at the scheduled webinar times, search the webinar archives for courses you can take at your leisure.

And, when you're settled in and reading by the fire this winter, consider some selections from BuilderBooks.com. As the official bookstore for the National Association of Home Builders, BuilderBooks offers award-winning publications, software, brochures, and more, with many available in both English and Spanish. Topics include Construction Management, Estimating, Green Building, Home Buyers/Owners materials, Codes & Regulations, and many more subjects for entrepreneurs who wish to build their business.

Happy Holidays Everyone!!

2012 NAHB INTERNATIONAL BUILDERS' SHOW® • FEBRUARY 8-11 • ORLANDO

Affordable Million Dollar Details & Sneak Peek Into 2012 Cost Saving Detail

Wednesday, 11/30/11
2:00pm - 3:00pm
BAEC Member Fee: 24.95

Webinar Description:

In today's challenging environment, builders need an edge that differentiates them from the competition - a far better strategy than competing on price alone. In this session, a panel of experts offer tips and practical examples of how to make your homes greener, deliver more home technology and offer greater architectural design, all within a reasonable budget.

Learning Outcomes:

- ♣ Learn how to create expensive-looking details within a budget
- ♣ Explore proven methods for offering basic, economical home technology
- ♣ Acquire field-tested tips for ways to offer greener homes without adding too much to the buyer's bottom line
- ♣ Gain proven strategies for designing and building homes that compete on value rather than price alone

This webinar counts as one hour of continuing education credit for NAHB professional designations.

Taking the Strange Out of Meeting Strangers

Wednesday, 12/7/11
2:00 pm - 3:00 PM
BAEC Member Fee: 24.95

Webinar Description:

78% of business transactions involve some form of networking. But what if it's just not something you want to do, know how to do, or are comfortable doing? This webinar will teach you how to develop your 30-second elevator pitch, break into the crowd, and focus on quality, not quantity. Make networking a fun rather than stressful experience by using the techniques you'll learn to grow your network and your business.

Learning Outcomes:

- ♣ Become comfortable in networking situations
- ♣ Make networking enjoyable and productive
- ♣ Identify contacts that are meaningful for you and your business

BAEC Open House Welcomes Many!

The BAEC House of the Year opened its doors to the Realtors on November 3rd and then to the public on November 5 & 6 for its Open House and Home Show in a Home. Griswold's First Selectman Phil Anthony, Building Official Peter Zvinglias and State Representative Steven Mikutel joined us for the ribbon cutting ceremony sponsored by Tony Sheridan and the Chamber of Commerce of Eastern CT.

About 300 people passed through the open house to admire the home to learn about its energy-saving features. BAEC's builder, Andy Gil, and Nort Wheeler of Mystic River Building Co., Paul Stone of Lombardi LLC and Chad Whitcomb of the Greensulators gave tours throughout the weekend and answered questions about the innovative heating and cooling system and design features used to minimize the cost of maintaining the home. Jennifer Gil collected donations for our charity, the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation.

Thank you to the Norwich Bulletin and New London Day for their great coverage of our event. Be sure to check us out in the New York Times on Sunday, November 27!

HOBBI AWARDS 2011

Five hundred and sixty industry professionals attended the prestigious Connecticut HOBIs or Home Building Industry Awards held Tuesday, November 15 at the Aqua Turf Country Club in Southington, CT! A slideshow by Joanne Carroll showcased the best products and services offered by our members in many categories under new home construction, land development, remodeling, commercial construction, sales and marketing and financing.

The Builders Association of Eastern Connecticut (BAEC) is pleased to announce the 2011 Winners from our area:

BEST CUSTOM HOME 3000-4000 sq ft Coastal Construction Management, LLC

This classic New England shingle-style home, designed by architect, Peter Springsteel, featuring superb craftsmanship and attention to detail, sits on the Pawcatuck River, in Westerly, Rhode Island, and includes 3910 square feet of living space on two floors with a two-car attached garage. It boasts unique construction elements such as eyebrow entry, sloped roofs, curved walls and challenging dormers with intricate shingle detail. This home features reclaimed white oak flooring, barreled ceilings, radiant floor warming, and geothermal heating and cooling. The Smallbone kitchen was handcrafted in France and hand-painted in place. Every room showcases heavy millwork and built-in cabinetry, as well as furniture and artifacts, collected by the homeowners from various countries, and incorporated into the construction and stonework. The owners built this home to welcome their children and future generations of their family.

BEST NEW/OLD HOME BROM Builders

The award-winning custom home was designed and built to blend into a surrounding historic district in Norwich, Ct. 2011 is the third consecutive year BROM has received a HOBBI award.

"Critical to the homeowners was the desire for it to blend in with other period homes in the area," said Rico Mastronunzio, part owner of BROM Builders and project manager for the planning, design and build out of the Greek Revival period home.

The original 1950s home -- lost to fire caused by lightning in early 2010 -- was part of a pre-zoned in-fill cul de sac containing three homes. The cul de sac is embedded in the historic district near the Norwich Free Academy campus. Nearby are mostly 18th and 19th century historic homes in Victorian, Italianate, Greek Revival, and Early American Colonial architectures. "Classic external features of the home were extremely important, and so too were interior details," Rico Mastronunzio said.

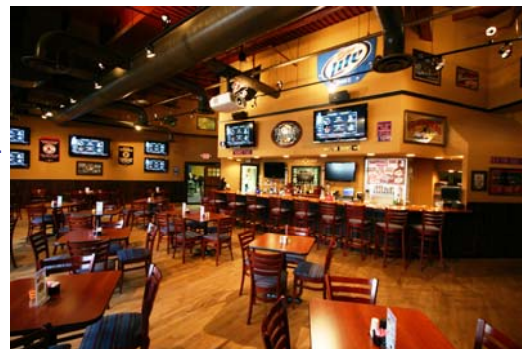

"All of the design and planning required budget balancing, of course, staying close to nearby existing home values, and still being able to include fitting, elegant interior details along with some of the latest design and technology features found in today's new homes."

The resulting new home is a two-story, 3,270 square feet Greek Revival design with 3 bedrooms, 2.5 baths, and with 650 sq. ft. of bonus space above an oversize two-car garage.

BEST COMMERCIAL REHAB/ADAPTIVE RE-USE Nutmeg Building & Remodeling

The company's challenge was to update the existing lounge for City Sports Grille in Groton, which had multiple levels of flooring with limited access. The goal was to entice bowlers and locals to come to the Sport Grill to stay, eat and watch sports on one of the many televisions including a big screen.

Nutmeg brought the 1964 building's dated systems up to current codes with no disruption of the daily activities of the bowling center. They installed new doors with the crash bars, custom hurricane glass windows, wood flooring, and finished a new bar.

Congratulations also goes to:

Franklin Construction, for BEST MARKETING COMMUNITY OVERALL for New London Harbor Towers and BEST MARKETING EVENT For March Fourth Art Show at New London Harbor Towers,

Connecticut Appliance & Fireplace Distributors for BEST WEBSITE OVERALL,

Liberty Bank for BEST CONSTRUCTION/PERMANENT CUSTOM HOME LOAN, and

Wells Fargo Home Mortgage for BEST END LOAN PACKAGE FOR A COMMUNITY and BEST HOME RENOVATION LOAN.

BUILDING BRIEFS

Small Business Resources

A package of economic development and jobs growth initiatives passed both chambers of the General Assembly on October 26 with nearly unanimous bipartisan support and was signed into law by the governor on October 27.

Part of the bill is the Small Business Express Program (EXP), which provides loans and grants to Connecticut's small business to spur job creation and growth. Assistance focuses on access to capital through a revolving loan fund and incentive loan and grants to create jobs

Small businesses employing not more than 50 employees are eligible. Priority will be given to Connecticut's economic based businesses, as defined in Connecticut General Statutes 32-222, including but not limited to: precision manufacturing, business services, green and sustainable technology, bioscience and information technology sectors.

For further information about this program and other business resources, visit the Connecticut Department of Economic and Community Development at ct.gov/decd or contact Michelle at 860-270-8052 or via email.

OPM, State To Revitalize HOMEConnecticut

The state Office of Policy Management (OPM) has confirmed that it would be revitalizing the HOMEConnecticut Program, with $1 million left in funds from 2008.

According to OPM's Community Development Director Dimple Desai, five municipalities have already received approval for grants since Gov. Malloy took office: Old Saybrook, Sharon, Torrington, East Lyme and New London. Four other towns have also recently shown interest.

"Both demographically and economically the market is demanding more, dense, smaller units," Partnership for Strong Communities Policy Director David Fink said. "Builders are building smaller so it's easier to afford the down payment, heating cost and transportation costs."

Towns that choose to create more affordable housing through HOMEConnecticut can create an Incentive Housing Zone by meeting two requirements. Twenty percent of the units in the zone must be affordable for those at 80% of the area median income, and the housing must meet density requirements of six single-family, 10 townhouses or duplexes, or 20 multifamily units per acre.

Towns can then qualify for a planning grant and incentives of up to $2,000 for each unit allowed to be built in an IHZ, and up to $2,000 for every multifamily unit building permit issued or up to $5,000 for every single-family building permit issued. Towns may use the incentive money for any purpose.

The program remains in its beginning stages, however. Harry Smith of the Office of Planning and Development in New London said the city adopted an IHZ totaling 73 acres in different areas of the city, but no plans for construction exist yet.

Malloy Announces Small Cities Grant Funding For 28 Communities

Governor Dannel P. Malloy has announced the state has awarded Small Cities grants totaling $12,342,000 to 28 Connecticut towns.

The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development's Small Cities Community Development Block Grant Program provides grants to eligible municipalities for economic development, affordable housing, community facilities and other revitalization projects. The federal program is administered by Connecticut's Department of Economic and Community Development.

In our region, grants are being awarded to:

Killingly — $300,000

Killingly plans to continue its housing rehabilitation program and rehab 10 units of low- and moderate-income housing.

Ledyard — $300,000

The town will use its funding to undertake a Housing Rehabilitation Loan Program to help low- and moderate-income homeowners rehabilitate their homes. A total of nineteen (19) housing units are anticipated to be rehabilitated. Upgrades would include roof replacement, heating systems, window replacement, lead paint removal, electrical and code upgrades, and energy and weatherization improvements.

Sprague — $700,000

Sprague plans to renovate Shetucket Village Senior Housing in downtown Baltic. Improvements include ADA and other upgrades, and the expansion of one unit to make it handicapped accessible.

Stonington — $542,000

The housing authority plans to renovate the Edythe K. Richmond Senior Housing complex through site improvements to Fisk Drive, as well as roof repairs and handicap accessibility and bathroom improvements in some units.

Windham — $300,000

Windham's funding will continue its housing rehabilitation program. The town anticipates approximately 10 units of low- and moderate-income units will be renovated.

Check with these towns to see if you can submit a proposal for any these community projects. Killingly has already issued a Request for Proposals due on November 26.
