

2009 ECI Official Starter's Note

By Steve Nesbitt

Hello Friends and welcome back to a tradition unlike any other...The Endicott College Invitational at Red Tail! There are so many adjectives to describe the sheer beauty and spectacular features regarding the layout at Red Tail. Not to mention the camaraderie in gathering associates from days past and the stories to be told and cherished. The late night study scenarios refreshing the medulla oblongata with literature or jamming new Intel into the cranium all the while staying hydrated with refreshments to better serve the learning process. Once again, it is a time to give thanks and appreciate relationships made and renewed. I'm proud to once again start the Endicott College Invitational. God bless the contestants and God bless the United States of America.
